Local Paddlers Honored at Rotary Anniversary Event

Chief Voyageur John Nikel and Drayton Valley members of the "David Thompson", Alberta's Centennial Canoe Team, were guests of the Rotary Club at its 12th Anniversary celebration in the Elks Hall in Drayton Valley last Friday.

Principal speaker for the evening was John Nikel of Edmonton who traced the course of the cross-Canada race that starts at Rocky Mountain House on May 24th. The Voyageurs will travel 3,283 miles of Canadian waterways before reaching Montreal on September 4th.

A prize of $2,500 per man goes to the team with the best time across the country.

Fred Raven, in introducing Mr. Nikel, outlined the growth of canoeing in this community. Enthusiasm grew, he said, from the time of the first White Water Race until the present when Drayton Valley now has three men as members of the Alberta team.

Drayton Valley, he said, is the only small community in Canada with as many of its residents taking part in the race. It is a record he said, equalled only by Calgary.

Introduction of head table guests was performed by Jack Bright, Rotary president, with introductions from the floor by Bob Mayhew and Vic Timmins.

Mayor Howard Pickup brought greetings from the Town of Drayton Valley. Frank Neil proposed the toast to the ladies which was responded to by Mrs. Elsie Kazoleas.

Bob Lang, an Edmonton escape artist, provided the entertainment for the evening which was concluded with dancing.

PLAN $2,000 BINGO

A cash bingo with $2,000 in prizes will be held in the Centennial Arena in Drayton Valley on Friday, May 5th.

The Drayton Valley Lions Club, sponsor of the event, will award prizes of $100 for 10 games and a whopping $1,000 for the winner of the final game.

The Lions are also planning a blitz night on Monday, May 1st when advance tickets will be sold. A $50 door prize will be given to the lucky holder of one of the pre-sold tickets.

Tickets are now available from club members at $5.00 each.

Mrs. Wood May Contest Election as Independent

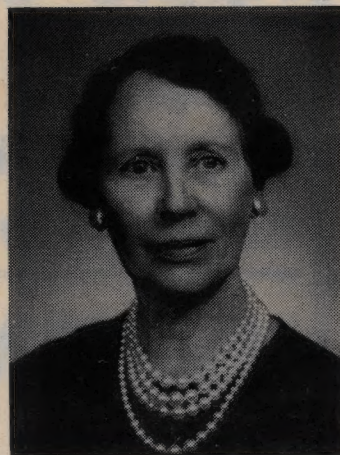

Despite news stories announcing her intention to run as an independent in the forthcoming Provincial election, veteran campaigner, Mrs. C.R. Woods of Stony Plain has not yet made a firm decision to enter the race.

In a telephone interview with The Western Review Tuesday noon, Mrs. Wood stated that she was considering running as an independent or independent Social Creditor but would take the next few days to come to a decision. She has until May 9th to file nomination papers.

Mrs. Wood lost the Social Credit nomination to Ralph Jespersen at the nominating convention in Stony Plain on February 11th. Of the nomination convention she said many oldtime Social Creditors were indignant to find supporters of other political parties among the voting delegates.

She said that under the democratic system it is everyone's right to support or oppose any political party. However, no one should participate in a convention selecting a candidate for any party unless one supports and approves the principles and aims of that party.

It is a fact, said Mrs. Wood, that she was defeated not by the long-time supporters of Social Credit, but by people indifferent to Social Credit and by long-time opponents.

Blood Donor Clinic Tops Expectations

Two hundred and twenty-five pints of blood were collected at Monday's clinic which is much better than the anticipated 200. Two hundred and thirty-eight donors registered so there were only thirteen medical rejects.

This year, in addition to thanking the regular donors, the nurses say a big thank you to the first time donors especially the many high school students who turned out yesterday afternoon. Keep up the good work.

ROCKY RAPIDS

Mrs. Eileen Belva
Correspondent

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Davidson on the birth of their first son, William Douglas.

It is nice to see Mr. Taylor, Mrs. Florence Davidson and Mrs. Empringham home after their stay in hospital.

The home of Andy and Emmi Freier was one of activity on Sunday when relatives, friends and neighbors gathered at their home for the occasion of the confirmation of their daughter, Monica.

The Rocky Rapids Community League wish to thank everyone who attended and made the supper and dance on April 14th a success.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS EDITH DEBY

Note: Sorry that the first part of this news is one week late. It is a case of "a funny thing happened on the way to the Review office".

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Roy Plotts and her family in the recent death of Mr. Plotts.

Mrs. Pearl Robinson is on a two week holiday in Vancouver.

Mrs. Robert Haynes was in town last week visiting members of her family and friends. Mrs. Haynes likes Swift Current, where the Haynes now live. Mrs. Haynes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cameron.

Mrs. Mastre affectionately known as "Grandma Mastre" to all old timers, was in town for her grand-daughter's wedding. Mrs. Mastre is now ninety two years young and makes some slight concession to her advanced years by walking with a cane.

Mrs. Henry Dunington is at the coast visiting members of her family.

Thoroughly enjoyed my week in Vancouver. It was a pleasure to see, or hear of, former residents of our area. Among these were: Mr. McLaughlin, now an assistant manager of a branch of the Royal Bank in New Westminster. Mr. McLaughlin is happy in his new position. He did not care for Terrace where he was transferred when leaving here.

Mr. and Mrs. Eamor have a thriving shoe store in the same city. Wallace Mohn is an R.C.M.P. officer stationed there. Clayton Dunington is a plumber with a lovely home in Burnaby. Mrs. Hartley, formerly a Tomahawk school teacher, had lunch with me and I found her very little changed. Bob Chisholm is a partner in a new and used furniture business which is suffering acute growing pains. Miss Phillippa Chapman, for many years District Health Nurse in Breton, is enjoying her retirement years in Vancouver. The Chinese Cherries are in bloom and are lovely beyond words.

Mike Gormley, Recreation Director, is attending the Pacific North-West Recreation Conference being held in Banff. Theme for the conference is "Seasons of Man."

Mr. and Mrs. Sherold Moore were in town for the Rotary Charter Night on Friday. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Featherstone. Cynthia accompanied her parents and spent one night with her little friend, Carol Neil.

Best wishes for future happiness are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mastre. Mrs. Mastre is the former Miss Louise Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown.

It is splendid to have Mrs. L.L. Williams back after her long stay in hospital. Hope you'll soon feel like new, Mrs. Williams.

Had you heard that Mr. Harry Zolmer has had perfect attendance at Rotary for the twelve years it has been organized in Drayton Valley?

Miss Glenda Galloway was bridesmaid and little Donna Gail Beirkos was flower girl at the wedding of Mr. Kenneth Durham and Miss Crystal Gratzfeld last Saturday at Lac Ste Anne. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Durham will make their home in this district.

Mr. Douglas Goebel of the Treasury Branch staff, is in an Edmonton hospital. Mr.

Goebel hurt his knee while curling and has had to have surgery.

The news is out. Mr. Don Terrault and his fiancée are definitely making plans for an August wedding.

Plate Rush Anticipated

A last minute rush for vehicle license plates seems inevitable again this year.

The Alberta Department of Highways, Motor Vehicle

Branch, points out that expiry date (April 30th) falls on a Sunday this year. This means that plates will be available from Government Offices up until Friday, April 28th, at 4:30 p.m. Private distribution offices may be open on Saturday, but there will be no carry over until Monday at any of the offices.

Homesteading in Thirties Described

By Mrs.
Fanny E. Davey

In January, 1931, my husband, Arthur, small daughter and I, moved on to our homestead in the bush country south of Evansburg. My parents and sister had arrived the spring previously, and my husband had spent the early part of the winter with them, helping to build their house and cutting logs for our own future home.

We were fortunate in that a neighbor on a nearby homestead was away that winter and kindly let us live in his cabin until ours was ready. Fortunately, too, that was a mild winter with little snow, or we would probably have frozen to death. The coal stoves brought from the prairies were not much use in keeping a wood fire going.

Our homestead was ten miles south of Evansburg, right in an elbow of the Pembina River, in fact, the river cut off a corner of good timber land from the rest of the place, and this could only be reached in winter. Much of the land was still unsurveyed and what few settlers were there cut trails through the bush and muskeg to get from one place to another. No one ever went out without an axe and a chain to move fallen trees from the trail.

My father, who had farmed in Alberta's dust bowl for many years, had brought with him a few good Shorthorn cattle, a number of horses and a good deal of machinery. He and my husband worked together.

We went to the homestead with little except a few household furnishings, a lot of grit (swallowed during the prairie dust storms) and a Model A. This was useless to us, for even if we had been able to get it to the homestead, we never could have bought gas to run it. However, a more affluent farmer closer to a passable road, traded us two cows and a yearling heifer for the car. A friend had given me a dozen pullets and a rooster and an old cream separator so we were all set to begin farming.

There was a saw mill a few miles away and Arthur spent the first few months of 1931 cutting and hauling logs in trade for dried lumber for our house. Dad and Arthur dug the cellar, and then the three of us went ahead with the actual building. I hadn't lived on a farm all my life for

In response to a request from The Western Review for information on the early days of the area Mrs. Fanny E. Davey, who now teaches at St. Anthony's School submitted the following article on bush country homesteading in the early 30's.

Her interesting story should bring back fond memories for those in the district who also struggled through homesteading days and should give those of a later generation a good picture of earlier days.

Top Right -- First crop, 1934

nothing--I could measure and saw a board and nail it in place as well as any man.

The house consisted of two large rooms, built of two-ply boards with shavings stuffed in between for warmth. Much later we added tar paper and siding. The roof was covered with tar paper held in place with slabs, but the wind managed to blow the rain up underneath, and we often had to move the beds around during the night to keep away from the drips.

As soon as possible we moved into the house and then Arthur began the back-breaking task of clearing the land. Most of the heavy timber on our place had been fire killed some years before, but the dead logs had to be piled and burned and the stumps pulled before the land could be broken. He did manage to break a few acres that first spring and broadcast oats, cattle feed, and we planted potatoes and other vegetables.

Arthur also helped other settlers, usually in trade, sometimes a calf, or a couple of little pigs, occasionally for cash, which was hard to come by in those days when eggs were a dime a dozen, and butter twelve cents a pound, if you were lucky enough to find a buyer.

We had wonderful neighbors.

Some years wild game was plentiful. It was the unwritten law of the land that if one man shot a moose, everybody got a piece of it. Sometimes there were lots of wild berries. Then I would pick berries frantically till I had every available crock and jar filled, against the times when there weren't any.

The cattle herd increased rapidly, it seemed no time at all before I was milking five or six cows and shipping a can of cream to Edmonton every week. If I was lucky I might get $2.50 for five gallons of special cream.

The Pembina Coal Mine was still operating full swing in those early years. This proved to be a God-send, for Arthur cut mine props and ties and sold them to the mine during the winter. He would cut and load one day and haul them to town the next.

Cont. Next Week

The Western Review welcomes stories and photos of the early days from readers throughout the area.

MAJOR FARM PROBLEM

There is no doubt that low prices for farm produce is the major problem faced today by farmers in Canada.

We're aware that almost everything we buy has risen in price over the past 15 years. Farmers buy too, yet almost everything they produce to sell has remained at virtually the same level as 15 years ago, or dipped below that level. A look at the chart below should convince urban dwellers (most of whom receive pay increases from time to time to cope with rising costs) that agricultural producers are justified in their demand that it's just about time something was done to correct an extremely unfair situation.

The farmer wouldn't complain too much about the increased price of everything he buys if his produce prices had increased by a reasonable amount. In fact, if he was getting half more than he got in 1950 he would probably be pretty happy. At $2.75 for wheat, $38.00 for cattle, $44.40 for hogs he wouldn't worry too much about buying at today's inflated prices.

But they haven't risen and consequently the buying boycott. We don't like boycotts and the farmers don't--but somehow they must open an avenue of communication that puts their problem squarely before the rest of Canada.

They hope through a boycott to create, in the minds of government, business and the general public, an understanding of their No. 1 problem, and hope that from this understanding, will come action of some sort to help restore the balance between farm income and expense.

For the sake of all Albertans--farmers, rural businessmen and town and village residents--we hope that a prolonged boycott will not be necessary to put the farmers' case before the Canadian public.

BERRYMOOR

Mrs. Bea Cropley,
Correspondent

Once again the district has been saddened by the sudden passing of a good friend and neighbor. Ora Whittaker suffered a heart attack on the thirteenth and was taken to the Drayton Valley hospital. The next morning he was moved to an Edmonton hospital and passed away that afternoon. The funeral service was held in the Chapel of Chimes funeral parlor in Edmonton. He was laid to rest at Crossfield.

We extend our sympathy to his wife, Mandy, his daughter Mrs. Phyllis Lawson, his sons Glen and Ivan, and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barrett left on Wednesday for a holiday. They plan to visit friends and relatives in Worsley. Prince George and Williams Lake.

When Jack returns he will take over as manager of the Imperial Esso Bulk station in Breton.

Don Martin bought Jack's school bus and is now the new bus driver on the Berrymoor to Breton run.

Dayna Cropley spent Wednesday night visiting her cousin, Claudette Barrett in Breton.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Weighill and their little son, Ross of Edmonton were visitors at the Cropley home on Monday. Orville is driving a truck for Western Messenger in the city.

Hunting Prospects Bright

Hon. Henry A. Ruste, Alberta's Minister of Lands and Forests, recently announced changes which are proposed in hunting regulations for the 1967 fall season.

Only one change is proposed in resident hunting licenses. It is recommended that residents be required to hold a $7.50 Grizzly Bear license to hunt these animals. The "grizzlies" are not plentiful in Alberta.

Mr. Ruste also announced that provincial Ruffed Grouse, Sharptail Grouse and Hungarian Partridge populations have increased, and hunting prospects will be good for these species. Increased daily bag limits on ducks will be requested of the Federal Government, as waterfowl populations in Alberta have increased sharply in response to increased quality and quantity of wetland habitat.

Seasons and bag limits will remain similar to those in 1966. However, with increased moose and upland game bird populations, wild life biologists are predicting a bumper crop of big game and game birds, which are still lightly harvested in many areas. Prospects for pheasant hunting appear to be slightly improved for 1967, Mr. Ruste stated.

The Minister also announced that the province's 126 wildlife management units will be consolidated into 20 zones. Within each, there will be a single opening and closing date for any particular species. Mr. Ruste stated that this will greatly simplify the hunting regulations and reduce confusion for hunters and guides.

A drunk was doing his best to spear an olive with a toothpick at a bar. Time after time the olive eluded him. Finally a man nearby became annoyed, took a toothpick and said, "This is the way to do it," and speared the olive on the first try.

"Sure. Sure." replied the drunk, "...after I got it so tired it couldn't get away."

Since when was a penny 'small change'?

No small change, your power pennies! They're big in value, comfort and convenience when put to work around the farm. Power pennies are the only pennies that have doubled in value in the past 20 years. Here's what one power penny will do for you:

You light your farmyard for 3 hours for a power penny.

A barn is ventilated for a power penny a day.

A power penny and a dairy bulk tank cooler keep 5 gallons of milk cool for 30 days.

A power penny a day makes home bodies of your cattle.

A power penny runs a milking machine for 10 days.

Library Super. Attends Drayton Valley Meeting

The regular quarterly meeting of the Drayton Valley Library Board was held in the library on April 20th.

Board members, Mrs. Ingram, Mrs. Cull and Mrs. Zolmer were present. Also present were retiring members Mr. Kaarsemaker and Mr. Orioux. Council will be asked at the next meeting to appoint another board member to make a full board of four members. Mr. Orioux chaired the meeting. At the June

Plan Rescue Competition

Which EMO unit or municipality in Alberta has the best rescue party? At the present time the question might well be argued, but, come the end of June, the question will be answered most decisively.

This year, for the first time in Alberta, a province-wide EMO rescue competition will be staged. Municipalities and units throughout the province will be invited to enter basic rescue parties in zone competitions.

Winners from the zones will meet at a final "showdown" towards the latter part of June.

EVANSBURG

Mrs. M. Bruner, Correspondent

Well, our uniform designing and making is all over. Our boys were very smart looking in their representation of World War I soldiers and the 4-H Club wish to thank every one who loaned props to make their part in the Jamboree a success.

Several people from the district motored to Edmonton on the 22nd to see the show put on by the Edmonton 4-H Regional Council and most report an enjoyable show.

The Centennial Committee held a general meeting last week. The many details involved in welcoming the caravan are being all tied up and we hope everything will come off nicely. Many of the business places will soon be flying Centennial flags and at long last progress that is really noticeable is going on at the skating rink site. Difficulty in obtaining machinery to get the work done has delayed the project but where there's a will, there's a way and the men have taken to working in the evenings to make use of machinery that is tied up otherwise. Plans are also underway to sponsor a Centennial Ball on the night of June 30th. For those who have a Centennial dress made for a special occasion, this will be one more occasion on which to display this special dress.

The Group Committee held their meeting last week. Due to the fact that Mr. Actimychuk has been transferred, Mrs.

Curlers Plan Centennial Ball

The Drayton Valley Curling Club will be holding their annual windup party in the form of a Centennial Ball this year. The club is hoping that guests will get in the Centennial mood for '67 and dress the part.

On Saturday, May 6th the Drayton Valley Curling Club will host a gala Centennial Ball, starting with a steak fry at 6:00 p.m. Convenor for the Ball is Mr. John Wronko. Music and entertainment will be supplied by Al Berault of Edmonton and the Drayton Valley Oilwives, respectively. All tickets for the Ball will be pre-sold and can be purchased from any of the Curling Club executive. The function will be limited to the first 200 couples.

The club hopes to see fashions from every decade. You can go back to the days of Indians, Voyageurs, Explorers or be right up to date in a miniskirt. A colorful age was the roaring twenties or the long ankle lengths of the '40's. The western Klondike Era would be most popular with the ginghams, can-can dresses and the varied full length gowns. Here the men in vests and chains can set the pace.

The Ladies Club are in charge of decorations, the settings will be in the theme of Centennial and in a Night Club Fashion, with table settings for 4, 6 or 12. Get a group together, get some tickets and have a full evening of entertainment at the Drayton Valley Ball.

Tickets are also on sale at Northern Video, Lloyds Jewellery and Don McKenzies.

The regular lifeguard personnel have been hired for the summer of 1967 at the Drayton Valley Swimming Pool. Sharon Phelan will be the Chief Lifeguard this season. Miss Phelan has been with us on the pool staff for the past two years and her service has been most satisfactory both as a lifeguard and as swimming instructor.

Jane McGee will be back again this year as a lifeguard and instructor. Ron Pajak has also been hired in the capacity of a lifeguard and swimming instructor. Ron was employed at the local pool during most of the 1966 season. Mrs. Rubyrose Vig will again assume the duties of pool cashier during the coming summer. There will be no full time janitor at the pool this year, although someone may be required for part time janitorial service at certain times. The bulk of this work, however, will be the responsibility of the lifeguards on duty.

Some changes in the operational policy of the pool will go into effect this season. Among other things the daily schedule will be shortened somewhat during the months of July and August. In other words the pool will open at 10:00 a.m. instead of at 8:00 a.m. as in other years. The Saturday schedule will be the same as that of Sunday. Those changes were made after careful evaluation of the pool operation during the past years and in particular that of the 1966 season. The entire swimming program is presently under study and we hope that we may be able to come up with a very satisfactory and successful swimming program during this Centennial year of 1967.

BUDGET MEETING HELD

TOWN COUNCIL SETS MILL RATE AT 65

Town Council, at its budget meeting last week, set the mill rate at 65 mills, an increase of seven over last year.

Council noted that almost every controllable expenditure has been held very close to the 1966 figure, and this after a very noticeable rise in wages and material costs over the past year.

Town Secretary-Treasurer, W. Johanneson stated that, "in effect the Town is decreasing its purchase of materials and services in controllable accounts in order to find the required money to meet the uncontrollable expenditures for the year."

The statement that follows shows the tax dollar being distributed mainly to feed the uncontrollable requirements. 48.55 mills go to the uncontrollable requirements compared to 16.45 for municipal services.

Attends 3-Day Circuit Assembly

The Drayton Valley congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses was well represented at a three-day circuit assembly held at the Emile Stehelin School auditorium in Barrhead April 21-23rd.

Thomas Moss, presiding minister of the local congregation stated that over 30 delegates made the trip and joined a crowd of 1028 from thirteen other congregations for the weekend gathering.

The theme of the assembly was "Supply to your Faith Endurance" and according to Mr. Moss, the meeting was most upbuilding spiritually.

Among the local residents attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Terry Claypack; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moss; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muir; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bain and family; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmitz and family Mrs. Lucy Wikander, Ralph and Andrew.

Take Soil Samples Early

Farmers wishing to take advantage of the Alberta soil testing service this spring would be well advised to send their samples early.

According to D.H. Laverty, who is supervisor of soil testing often sees a large number of samples coming in for testing. He says that the lab can process about 100 samples per week and if farmers want their results back in time for use this spring they should take their samples as soon as the soil is dry and mail them immediately.

Fertilizer requirements may vary considerably from field to field and from year to year and this fact makes annual soil testing a very advisable practice. He says that soil tests can also be useful in helping to discover what is wrong in any of the problem areas that may exist on the farm. In conclusion he points out that soil tests only cost 50¢ per sample and at this cost the farmer can scarcely afford not to take soil tests. Soil sample kits are available from all district agriculturists
